Emma Nichols was born and raised on a farm outside Klemme, Iowa. As an artist, her work reflects the values and traditions passed on by the innumerable generations of farming ancestors. Emma was homeschooled for her primary and secondary education and has completed her Bachelors of Arts degree in Studio Art at Grand View University in Des Moines, Iowa. She has displayed work in student art competitions, the Iowa State Fair and the Des Moines Arts Festival. Emma's passion is for people and the impact that she can have on them in personal relations, friendly encounters, and through their viewing of her artwork.
